
Séminaire exceptionnel
d'astrophysique,
de Physique des particules
et du Groupe des couches minces

Dr. Alan Shotter

Director , TRIUMF

RADIOACTIVE BEAMS – A NEW FRONTIER

The production and acceleration of isotopically pure radioactive beams is opening up new research opportunities in a range of scientific areas. In various laboratories around the world, facilities for the production of radioactive beams are either being commissioned, under construction, or in the planning stage. The talk will aim to give an overview of the current world situation and the areas of science that radioactive ion beams have the potential to address.

Université de Montréal
November 30, 2001
15h30

Salle: Pavillon Principal
D-560